Dear Sam:

Please excuse the delay in responding to your letter enclosing a draft of your study on a political accommodation in Vietnam. As you know, the pressure of business has been very heavy during these first weeks.

Your thoughtfulness and counsel are as usual very much appreciated. Your study is particularly useful to us since it explores an area which is both important and yet largely unexplored. The question of political accommodation is very high on the agenda for our review of policy in Vietnam.

I would be pleased to have a copy of the full study when you complete it and, as my schedule permits, to discuss it with you.

Best regards,

Henry A. Kissinger
